

A coded disk lost but long since found
Is but the first step toward holy ground
A son of Pasiphae wandered an isle that became
Home of disk and a palace, which share a name.
North of the ruins above all else towers
The birthplace of one with god-like powers
Up where five stand (but one is highest)
Seek a spot more blessed than the rest.
Pointed out on the map, is a spot with A red letter
But look Southeast and you'll do much better
At the summit are many photographs to spy
(Above 2400 there is much to eye)
The shot of a rocky chapel at the peak
It's title written in letters all greek
Is one step closer to the final name
Which you must find to win this game.
The lensman has one name that's shared
With a grecian son that might make you scared
The frightener's father has the name to submit
To finish this puzzle and prove your wit.
